

Documoto Donates to Heifer International

Is pleased to announce that their team is sending two girls to school through the Heifer International program.

DENVER, May 19, 2022 (NewsWire.com) - Documoto, a Denver-based software company specializing in digital publishing and interactive content management for equipment manufacturers and asset-intensive professionals, is pleased to announce that they are sending two girls to school through the Heifer International program. Working with rural communities across Africa for 47 years, Heifer International supports farmers and local food producers to strengthen local economies and build secure livelihoods that provide a living income. And Documoto is committed to helping with these efforts around the world.

Education is the best tool for ending the cycle of poverty. Educating and empowering young women through the Heifer International program equips them with books, paper, and learning materials and accommodates their tuition and school expenses. Which is why Documoto has taken action to become a part of the solution; as stated by Rebecca Howard, VP of Operations at Documoto, "Education can change a life, and I am pleased that the Documoto team pooled together their resources to help support these initiatives."

The Documoto team began a donation drive in the early months of February, and the monetary campaign continued through the end of April. As a result, the Documoto team has been able to organize enough donations for two young girls to go to school. To donate or help contribute to a family's sustainability, please visit <https://www.heifer.org>.

ABOUT DOCUMOTO

Documoto is a Denver-based software company with a vision to help equipment manufacturers win their aftermarket through superior customer experiences for their partners and customers. Their product is an industry-leading SaaS solution that allows its customers to drive real innovation in their aftermarket. With Documoto, customers can create parts catalogs and related technical content; securely distribute that content over the web to any device in various languages; and find and order the right parts and products the first time, every time. Documoto customers are found throughout the globe and range from small manufacturers to some of the world's largest machinery companies and transit organizations.

Source: Documoto

About Documoto, Inc

Documoto is an interactive publishing solution that simplifies the selling, managing, and supporting of machine and equipment parts. Documoto is a software company with a vision to help equipment manufacturers "keep the world's machines working."

<https://documoto.com/>

Company Address

Documoto, Inc

800 Englewood Pkwy, Ste C201 (Ste C201)

Englewood, CO 80110

United States

Original Source: www.newswire.com